

Customer Success Written Assessment

Prepared for: VP of Customer Success Review

Company: Levitate

Candidate: Krystal

1) Account unexpectedly deactivated (urgent access issue)

Customer Response

Hi [Customer Name],

Thank you for reaching out. I am sorry for the stress this caused. I understand how urgent this is, especially when you need access to your data.

I have marked this as high priority and am reviewing your account now with our team. We will identify the cause and take the fastest secure path to restore access.

Here is what you can expect:

- Initial update within 60 minutes, even if we are still investigating
- Confirmation of the root cause (user access change, billing hold, security restriction, or system issue)
- Clear next steps to restore access

If needed for security, we may ask to verify account ownership before reactivation.

I will stay on this personally and keep you updated until you are fully back in.

Best,
Krystal

3) Customer cannot log in (troubleshooting)

Customer Response

Hi [Customer Name],

Thanks for reaching out. I am sorry you are running into login trouble. I am happy to help.

Please try these steps:

1. Confirm you are using the exact email tied to your Levitate account.
2. Click Forgot Password? and check spam/junk if the reset email does not appear.

3. Try an incognito/private window, clear cache/cookies, or use another supported browser (Chrome, Safari, Firefox, Edge).
4. If your invite expired or access was removed, your Account Admin may need to reactivate your user.
5. If your organization uses SSO, confirm you are using the correct SSO flow and active identity provider credentials.

If it still fails, please send the email you are using, a screenshot of the error, and the approximate time of the failed attempt.

I will review this immediately and escalate if needed.

Best,
Krystal

Internal actions (before): Confirm user status, check password-reset delivery and SSO/authentication flags, identify admin contacts.

Internal actions (after): Monitor diagnostics, validate login/reset events, escalate for auth or SSO issues, and confirm successful login.

4) Double charge complaint with refund demand

Customer Response

Hi [Customer Name],

Thank you for flagging this, and I am very sorry for the frustration. I understand why seeing two charges is upsetting.

I have escalated this to Billing as a priority. We are reviewing invoices and payment activity now to confirm whether this was a duplicate charge, retry, renewal, or another billing event.

What you can expect next:

- Update within 30-60 minutes with confirmed findings
- Clear explanation of the billing event
- If duplicate is confirmed, immediate refund/reversal submission with confirmation

If a refund is issued, bank posting times can vary, and I will share expected timing so you know what to expect.

I will own this through resolution and keep communication clear and prompt.

Best,
Krystal

Internal actions (before): Review invoice/payment details, validate billing period overlap, evaluate common causes, align with Billing on policy and timeline.

Internal actions (after): Escalate with full evidence, confirm root cause, provide timely update, complete correction, and close with clear explanation.

5) 30-day inactivity re-engagement

Customer Response

Hi [Customer Name],

Hope you are doing well. I noticed there has not been much recent activity in your Levitate account, and I would love to help you regain momentum.

A quick restart can make a big impact. We can begin with one simple win this week:

1. Launch a review request campaign
2. Send a targeted client check-in email
3. Schedule two weeks of social posts

If helpful, we can do a quick 20-minute working session and get one of these live together. Reply with 1, 2, or 3, and I will take it from there.

Best,
Krystal

Internal actions (before): Review recent activity, onboarding status, and open issues; identify one recommended next step tied to business goals.

Internal actions (after): Set follow-up if no reply, track re-engagement, deliver guided quick win, escalate to strategic health review if inactivity continues.
